NORCAL CONCERT AND MEMBERS ANNUAL MEETING

Sunday, January 22, 2012 at 2 PM
COME IN VIA THE STAGE DOOR
ON ALSTON WAY

Please note the 2 PM starting time and that this is a 'Members Only' meeting with no admission fee. The earlier start time allows for NorCal's very important Annual Meeting - which is required by law to maintain NorCalTOS' tax exempt 501(c)(3) status. Your attendance is needed to provide a quorum in order to elect Board Members and to conduct any other business that may be brought forward. Nominations for the Board are Warren Lubich, Elbert Dawson, and Jud Owens. (According to NorCal TOS' By-Laws if the number of nominees received is equal to the positions to be filled, the nominees are considered elected.)

Moreover, your participation in the business decisions is necessary to keep NorCal the vital and functioning Chapter we all love.

Before the business meeting NorCal will feature one of our own - Bert Atwood - as the artist. This is special because while most NorCal members know Bert from his many NorCal activities and his warm personality, probably only those who have attended a picnic at his house have heard him play. Bert prefers to play for his own enjoyment, and rarely performs for audiences, so you will be delighted to hear this talented member playing for us.

When Bert was 8 years old his father took him to the Redwood Gardens - a restaurant in Salinas which featured subdued lighting, candles on the tables, a Hammond organ complete with red and green lights under the keyboards, and an owner who played for patrons so they could dance. Bert's mother had started him on piano at age 4. After the restaurant closed for the night, the owner let Bert play the organ (he couldn't even reach the pedals). Bert was hooked!

His parents told him if he'd continue to take his piano lessons and would play piano in the Jr. High School orchestra, he'd get a Hammond for his graduation.

Bert's first organ teacher was Dave Barrett, a founding member of ATOE (now ATOS). For Bert's second organ lesson, Dave brought him a George Wright record. Bert was hooked on Theatre Organ!

He studied Electrical Engineering in college and then practiced engineering for 34 years. But, he continued to play the Hammond as a hobbyist. Some forty years later he achieved his dream of a Theatre Pipe Organ in his home - albeit a "toaster" - an Allen GW-4!

The past 10 years have been spent refining the sound of the GW-4 to suit the acoustics of Chez Atwood and learning to play "Gigi" - his name for the GW-4. During the 50+ years he's played he always preferred to play for his own enjoyment and thus he claims he never mastered some of the finer necessities of professional musicianship, such as not playing comfortably in all keys and lacks true classical training. Nonetheless his music is quite enjoyable and his selections a delight to hear.

[Editor's Note: Bert is the author of 'My Father Was A Crop Duster', which chronicles the story of one of California's pioneer Crop Dusters. Published by aapublishing.com, it is a fascinating read.] ♪♪

2011 George Wright Memorial Concert

The many NorCal members who made the trip to Sacramento's Grant Union High School for the 14th Annual George Wright Memorial Concert on Sunday, November 13th were given a real treat.

Dave Wickerham brought the best out of the Grant Union High School's Wurlitzer, and gave everyone a grand time – George Wright would have been proud of him.

And congratulations to the Alumni of Grant Union High School and the Sierra Chapter who put this concert on each year to celebrate where George Wright began his glorious career.

CHAIRMAN'S
WINDLINE

Happy 2012!

Well, 2011 was certainly an interesting year for NorCal... we finished our 2010 concert season only to eventually learn that 2011's would be in question due to two major projects in the BCT: 1) complete replacement of the stage lighting system, and 2) renovations in response to a lawsuit regarding ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) issues. The new lighting system is outstanding, with computer-controlled presets available on a stage-right panel. In addition, there are more lighting instruments and dimmers than ever! On top of that, the electrical contractors performed their work to high standards! The ADA work nears completion, but awaits a lengthy sign-off process from the state. In the meantime, Neal Wood and I plan to meet with school officials in the near future to discuss the possibility of a return to 'normalcy' in regard to offering public concerts once again.

The new year also brings new board membership, and I'd like to thank the nominating committee (Warren Lubich, Bill Theobald, and Don Ravey) for providing an excellent set of board candidates: Warren Lubich, Elbert Dawson, and Jud Owens! I'd also like to thank "termed-out" board member/treasurer Frank LaFetra for his tireless work as a member of our board. In spite of personal injury and moving to a new residence, Frank was a real trooper and never missed a beat...THANKS!!!

I'm also pleased to announce that Neal Wood has agreed to serve as our new treasurer, following interim treasurer Elbert Dawson (thanks, Elbert, for stepping up to the plate in our time of need!).

As we look ahead to the new year, please plan to join us at 2PM on Sunday, January 22, 2012 for our Annual Meeting and program to be performed by our own Bert Atwood. See you there!

Looking into the future, we also have scheduled two open console dates for January 15 and February 22. We're also looking at presenting a member concert in March...stay tuned!

Farther down the road, the Sierra and NorCal ATOS chapters are discussing the possibility of co-hosting a national ATOS convention in 2016. Your thoughts and ideas are welcome as we make our considerations over the next several months.

Here's to a great 2012!

Ironstone Pops Concert

This always popular event will be on April 14th, with artist Brett Valliant. Brett is an outstanding young organist who was a featured artist at the 2011 ATOS Convention and has toured both abroad and throughout the USA.

Brett's concert will feature a wide variety of popular music, including show tunes, ballads, jazz, and light classics.

Since the Ironstone Winery has a large list of concert attendees, tickets quickly sell out. Neal Wood has arranged for a block of 25 tickets for NorCal which may be ordered from him for $39 per ticket by phoning 415-861-7082 or emailing Neal at: nealwood@pacbell.net.

EDITOR'S

As we start a new year Frank and I are at last settling into our new home. Hopefully the turmoil of the last few months is past and we can again put more time into the Windsheet.

As Chairman Bill Coale points out in the Chairman's Windline, the stage lighting system is complete and very well done.

The renovations due to the ADA work are unfinished so the Theatre is not yet ready for public concerts. Unless you have been following the work closely you may be surprised at the changes. The front rows have been taken out and replaced with areas for wheelchairs and the people accompanying those in the wheelchairs.

To accommodate those with disabilities, the right side of the auditorium has been modified so that a ramp leads to a lift up to the stage level, then a hallway to bathrooms back of the stage level. It is a bit ungainly looking at the moment, so don't be surprised. (See Page Three)

Plans for a 2012 Concert Season depend upon when the BCT will be ready for public concerts. Bill Schlotter says that artists are anxious the play our wonderful Wurlitzer, so he does not see any problem in scheduling world class artists even now. But that means all concerts will be 'members' only. As before, guests will be able to buy a year's membership for $20 which will include the $15 admission for that day – much the same way our FIRST TIMERS ARE 4 FREE program worked.
